The striking moulders held a meeting afterward at Faller's Hall, in Avenue-C, and it was manimously decided that they would not return to work unless their demands were granted. The blacksmiths are still en strike.

The brewers held a meeting at the Steuben House, in the Bowery, vesterday to consider the report submitted by the committee of beer-scilers, which stated that unless the brewers would recognize their men the Beer-Scilers' Association would have no further relations with the brewers. A long preamble and resolutions were unanimously adopted, stating that the brewers had made equitable concessions to the unjust demands of their men, and they would make no more. If the strikers wish to return they will be employed as fast as vacancies occur in the breweries. The brewers have now sufficient help, they say, but as no illwill is cherished against the strikers this chance will be given them.

Juch dissatisfaction exists among the employes of the Delamater from Works, at Thirteenth-st, and the North River. The men made a demand for a half-holiday June 1. Two hours were granted them; but now it is thought that the men will strike; if the full demand is not conceded.

Thomas Klinke, a fireman, of Perth Amboy, was taken before Justice Gardner, in the Harlem Police Court, yesterday, for alleged attempts to induce the firemen of the steamship Haraid, of the Copenhagen Line, to desert in accordance with the desire of the Steamship Firemen's Union. He was held for examination.

THE WAY O'DONOVAN ROSSA TALKS.

O'Donovan Rossa was asked yesterday if he anticipated any action being taken by the United States authorities to interfere with the operations carried on by means of the Skirmishing Fund. He replied emphatically that he did not.

"We are carrying on this movement against England," he said, "not as American citizens, but as Irishmen. I have a document on which there is a seal bigger than your hand, which debars me from living in the United Kingdom of Great Britain. Do you suppose that anything will deter me, as an exile, from doing all I can to secure for Ireland her rights? England cannot be moved by argument or entreaty. What then must be done? Force must be used. We are not strong enough for open war, and so we must strike her unawares until she realizes that it is her interest to be just. You know I have had little faith in the Land League movement. It is not now any greater than it was—in fact, it is less. Within a week there has been a umon of two physical force organizations, with a view to making the movement more aggressive than it has been before. From this on our operations will be more active than they have been hitherto, and it will be seen that instead of being intimidated by British blaster, we are being encouraged to greater exertions. Recently we have received valuable assistance from prominent Irishmen in this country who have not before helped us. They have lost faith in Ireland's relief being accomplished by peaceable means."

While O'Donovan Rossa was talking he opened a letter containing $5, which was collected by a woman living in East New-York, by means of a card devised by Patrick Coleman, one of the conspirators in the recent Mansion House plot. This card is divided into 100 small squares, each one designed for a subscription of 5 cents. At the top are the words, "Measure for measure." Five cents for a stab at England."

A WESTERN MERCHANT ARRESTED.

A WESTERN MERCHANT ARRESTED.

Albert Slocum, manufacturer of straw goods in Milwankeer whose assignment, with habitities of $250,000, was telegraphed from Milwankee Wednesday, has been arrested in this city by the sheriff, under an order from the Court of Common Fleas, on the application of Thomas V. Cator, attorney for J. Zimmerman & Co., straw goods merchants, at No. 161 Mercer-st, and has been required to farmish bail in the sum of $838,000. The grounds of the arrest are alleged disposition of property with intent to defraudhis crediters, and fraudulent statements to obtain credit. Mr. Slocum was arrested by a deputy sheriff Tuesday afternoon, and a short time after, it is said, was allowed to telegraph to Milwankee to have his assignment filed there. He apparently had the deed all prepared and had arrangements made to have it filed at a moment's notice.

The character of the assignment is not known here, but Mr. Slocum claims to have preferred Zimmerman & Co., J. S. Plummer and H. Weckberlin, of this city, to a certain extent. Within a brief time before he started for New-York, it is said, he made two other special assignments. Some of the creditors have sent their representatives and lawyers to Milwaukee to investigate the affairs. Mr. Slocum bought largely in this market in the past three years, and at the close of last year owed Zimmerman & Co., over $30,000, which had been extended at his request. Mr. Slocum had not been able to obtain the required bail up to a late hour yesterday afternoon, and was in the custody of one of the deputy sherifs.

A SWARM OF BEES IN BROADWAY. A SWARM OF BEES IN BROADWAY.

Beveral hundred persons might have been seen about 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon, at Broadway and Park-place, with their heads inclined as if making astronomical observations. Instead of stargating, however, they were looking at a stranged black mass in the air, which proved to be a swarm of bees. Several berses were seen to jump with an astonished sideways glance as the bees paid their respects to them. A big dog suddenly started down Park-place at great speed, and many lookers-on felt suddenly impelled to hasten their footsteps. The keeper of the fruit-stand on the corner, who had an aye for business, proceeded to capture the swarm. Turning an old fruit barrel bottom-ade up, he performed frantis incantations over it with a green.

bough. The insects were soon borne off in triumph. A Triumpe reporter followed the fruit-dealer to No. 14 Park-place, the office of The Bee Keepers' Journal, where the rebel colony was safely lodged on the roof, along with about seventy-five other communities. After the Editor, A. J. King, had given the fruit man $1 the reporter asked him why he kept so many bees. "To raise queets," he said, "some of which are worth $20 apiece."

"What kind of bees do you keep!" asked the reporter.

Steamship Firemen's Union. He was held for examination.

Five German firemen were arrested yesterday on board the steamship Newport, of Ward's Havana Line. It was alleged that the men had described from the Lessing, of the Hamburg Line, before their time of release. The arrest was caused by P. Powers, the president of the Steamship Firemen's Union, who said that it was done to protect the members of the society, as these men, attracted by the higher wages offered them to replace the strikers, had described their own vessel. The men will be placed on board the Lessing and rearraigned at Hamburg.

The boys employed in the ping department of the tobacco manufactory of Pierre Lorillard & Co., in First-8t., Jersey City, demanded an increase of wages vesterday, and about twenty of them left work. The strikers returned to the manufactory at noon, and threatened the other boys who refused to join in the striker. A police officer was summoned, and the strikers ran away.

The Jersey City Yacht Club was unfortunate yesterday in not having so successful a regatra as was anticipated, owing to lack of wind. There were thirty anticipated, owing to lack of what. There were direct six entries, but the light breeze at the start-prevented more than twenty boats from appearing. The regarda committee had also arranged for two starting points, but owing to the confusion which it caused the judges decided to make the start the same for all classes, and the result, due to misunderstanding was, some of the yachts did not get away until an hour after the others. The did not get away until an hour after the others. The freet was divided into five classes, the course for Classes A and B being from a point of Bedloe's Island, to and around buoy No. 14, on Dry Romer, and return; for Classes C, D and E, from the same point, around buoy No. 17, on Robbins Reef and return; twice over the same course. The Eisle May won in her class, beating her two competitors by nearly an hour. The Knight Fennelse won in Class B, beating the Alexander F, by more than two minutes. The Abbie M, was witner in Class C. Bunnle in Class D, and the Alice in Class E. The prizes were distributed at the club-house after the race.
